RE: $10,000 Donation to Jefferson's Pancreatic Cancer Research Team
DATE: October 26, 2009

NEWTOWN, PA – Fund A Cure for Pancreatic Cancer will visit the Pancreatic Cancer research team at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital in Philadelphia, PA led by Dr. Charles Yeo, on Tuesday October 27th to present a check for $10,000 to go towards their cutting edge research efforts. The check presentation will occur at 4:00 pm on the 6th floor of the Curtis Building at 1015 Walnut Street and all press are welcome to attend.

“I am extremely excited that we will be able to help Dr. Yeo and his top notch research team with their groundbreaking research on pancreatic cancer treatments”, stated Fund A Cure for Pancreatic Cancer Chairman Robert Ciervo.

“The work they are doing at the cellular and genetic level is what we need to be occurring all across the country in thousands of laboratories to help find a cure for the most deadly form of cancer know to man. Dr. Yeo, Dr. Brody and Dr. Arafat are leading research efforts to make pancreatic cancer cells many times more susceptible to chemotherapy treatments. These efforts will lead to better patient outcomes and give those afflicted with this horrible disease hope.”

Ciervo continued, “We are grateful for their work and hope that our elected leaders in Washington, DC realize that they must properly fund pancreatic cancer research in order for cures to be found. As Pancreatic Cancer Awareness Month begins in a few days it is time for Congress to Fund A Cure. Now. ”
